

Join us for a special screening at the Boston International Film Festival

TEACH

TEACHERS ARE TALKING IS THE NATION LISTENING

A Documentary

Made by and About Teachers

April 16, 2012 - 12:45 pm - Patriots Day

AMC Loews Theatres

175 Tremont St.
Boston Common

Seating is limited, get your tickets soon.
Online Tickets available starting March 12
To purchase tickets for TEACH and for a schedule of over 100 other films please go to <http://www.bifilmfestival.com>
info@bifilmfestival.com 617-482-3900

TEACH, Teachers Are Talking, Is the Nation Listening brings an important perspective to the national education debate that is currently being dominated by a corporate led agenda to privatize education and blame teachers for everything that is wrong with education in this country. This documentary takes on many questions about No Child Left Behind, high stakes testing, unequal distribution of education resources, and schools dominated by data driven curriculum instead of providing an education that is dynamic, creative, exciting, and joyful.

www.teachdocumentary.com 617-699-9349

TEACHER MADE LABOR DONATED